

SEEKING MATH DAY VOLUNTEERS MARCH 20, 2023

An opportunity to inspire and support.

On hiatus since 2019, Math Day is back! Math Day will take place the Monday of spring break. 1500 students from across Washington state will visit UW to attend math talks. We need a lot of volunteers to make this event a success. Volunteers help students navigate through campus, assist with lectures and other activities.

No experience necessary...

and you don't have to be a STEM major. Invite your friends to join!
Interested? Email Jonah Ostroff at ostroff@math.washington.edu

To see more details about this event, visit <https://tinyurl.com/mathday2023>