

HARRY BRIDGES CENTER FOR LABOR STUDIES

BUILDING A MOVEMENT: LABOR INTERNSHIP

Applications for Spring 2022 currently OPEN until Monday, March 21st, 11:59PM

The Building a Movement Labor (BAM) Internship is a PAID internship program that connects undergraduate students at the University of Washington with the local labor movement, through partnerships with community organizations engaged with this work on a variety of levels.

Build connections and relationships with folks working in labor.

Learn about the history of labor organizing.

Develop meaningful professional and leadership skills.

Create and engage in spaces that discuss how our efforts can collectively contribute to the broader labor movement and the systemic liberation of all working (and non-working) peoples.

FOR MORE INFORMATION PLEASE VISIT:
[LABOR.WASHINGTON.EDU/
BAM-LABOR-INTERNSHIP](https://labor.washington.edu/bam-labor-internship)

Questions? Please contact Yasmin Ahmed at ypahmed@uw.edu