ABOUT THE MUSEOLOGY PROGRAM

- We are a two-year, full-time, in-person program based in Seattle at the University of Washington.
- We are a people-centered program and operate on a cohort model because we believe the most powerful learning happens as part of a community.
- We embrace interdisciplinarity and maintain a broad and flexible curriculum adaptable to students' unique backgrounds and interests.
- We believe museums can make the world a better place, and that the power of museums lies in the role they play in learning, wellbeing, community building, and social justice. Our curriculum is centered on these beliefs.
- We believe that museum professionals are connectors. They are storytellers, dialogue facilitators, community liaisons, designers, evaluators, researchers, project managers, and more. Learn more at our Careers page.
