

Decarbonization and the UW

Wednesday, April 20 • 2:30 pm • Virtual on Zoom

Join us for this Earth Week discussion about decarbonization and what it might mean for the University of Washington and local communities. The State of Washington and the UW's Sustainability Action Plan call for the UW to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and work toward carbon neutrality. What will this mean for all of us, and what are the technical, social and financial challenges we face in making this happen?

David Woodson

of Campus Energy,
Utilities & Operations

Marilyn Ostergren
